

Michael Nicholson's Bio

Michael Nicholson is a commissioned diplomat and economist with the US Agency for International Development. Currently the West Africa team lead for trade and investment, his previous assignments include Armenia, Egypt, Liberia, Pakistan, and Kenya/East Africa. Dr. Nicholson has published over a dozen peer-reviewed articles on trade, development, intellectual property rights, competition policy, and the privatization of WASH services, and is the author of the book Shattered Chasm: The Lighter Side of Living in Liberia. He is a graduate of Transylvania University, in Lexington, Kentucky, and the University of Colorado at Boulder.